Dino Lack Elected Vice-Chair of SITI

Dino Lack has been elected to the position of Vice-Chair of the Software and Information Technology of Iowa's (SITI) Board of Directors.

SITI President Miriam Ubben welcomes Lack, who currently serves on SITI's Board of Directors. "Dino lives and breathes his commitment to SITI and our mission," said Ubben. "He has proven to be very generous with his time, ideas and company resources offering assistance wherever needed for the good of the cause. I look forward to welcoming him as Vice-Chair of the SITI Board of Directors. His voice will help shape the future direction of this organization and will have a positive impact on Iowa's technology industry."

"Being a part of SITI is a great opportunity to help carry the torch for the Iowa technology community. I'm excited and honored to serve," said Lack.
